Letter From The Chairman

By Doug Roberts

In June 2021, the Committee traveled to Cape Cod to plan for a Reunion in 2022. As you may know, the reunion was originally scheduled for 2021 but was postponed due to the COVID pandemic. The team was lucky enough to make the advance trip just before the Delta wave. The Delta wave has been horrendous with many additional deaths. If tragedy has struck your family, our condolences and our hearts go out to you. Hopefully COVID will fade to make the 2022 reunion a time of celebration and renewed freedom.

During the trip, we toured venues, met with the Chairman of the Orleans Historical Society, and met our keynote speaker for the 2022 reunion, Richard “Dick” Ryder, author of Seashore Sentinel: The Old Harbor Lifesaving Station on Cape Cod. We have signed a contract with the Double Tree Hotel just north of Hyannis at favorable room and meal rates, locked in ahead of the recent inflation surge. Old Robert would be proud of your committee.

We bid a sad adieu to Bonnie Featherstone’s service on the Scholarship Committee. See the statement in this newsletter. Bonnie has served faithfully for decades, and we laud her work evaluating and working to give out scholarship funds to worthy young people in our family.

Speaking of scholarships, we have become aware that young people are now applying for jobs via recorded video. The scholarship committee has revised the rules to include a video option as well. See the revised rules and video information in this newsletter.

Your historians, membership secretary, and chairperson have been working to uncover additional information on Linnell contribution to the military focusing on the Life Saving service organizations that lead up to the US Coast Guard. Additional tidbits of information have been found that add context to the stories in the DRL book. In the past decade substantial work has been accomplished digitizing many historical documents in our country, making them available via deep and powerful searches on the internet. See the reunion announcement mailed out in December, on www.linnellassociation.com, and in the upcoming newsletter.

We look forward to seeing you June 24-26, 2022 on the Cape!

LINNELL CONTRIBUTION TO THE ADVENT OF THE U.S. COAST GUARD

At the last reunion on the Cape in 2015, we honored Captain Ebenezer Harding Linnell of the clipper ships Eagle Wing and Flying Mist. While doing research on E H Linnell, we discovered a rich heritage of Linnell contribution on the Cape to lifesaving. Lifesaving on the Cape dates to the winter of 1626-1627 and the wreck of the Sparrowhawk, a Mayflower era ship carrying passengers bound for the New World which wrecked near modern day Orleans. Aid was first provided by Native Americans, who notified the colonists at Plymouth. William Bradford, governor of Plymouth Colony, personally led a rescue mission which brought much needed supplies. The survivors were ultimately taken to Plymouth, and remarkably, no deaths were recorded for this first lifesaving mission.

The first organization to provide relief to shipwreck victims was the Massachusetts Humane Society (MHS), which was founded in 1786 and incorporated in 1791. The purpose of the Society in part was for the recovery of persons who meet with such accidents as to produce in them the appearance of death, and for promoting the cause of humanity, by pursuing such means, from time to time, as shall have for their object the preservation of human life and the alleviation of its miseries. Years later the Society built the first lifeboat station in Cohasset. There were soon at least four stations on Cape Cod; in Provincetown, Eastham, Chatham, and Orleans. Eventually, in 1847 the federal government took the step of providing money for lifeboats to be stationed at lighthouses creating the US Life-Saving Service (USLSS) in 1848. However, the lifeboats and equipment were lost, misused, and stolen. In 1854, after a terrible storm, the first professional “keepers” of the lifesaving stations were appointed in 1855.

Ineffectiveness of the federal government in supporting lifesaving operations continued in part due to neglect during the Civil War. After another terrible storm, Sumner Kimball Chief of the Treasury Department’s Revenue Marine Division in 1871 studied the problems plaguing the lifesaving stations. He obtained an appropriation from the US Congress to make improvements. Kimball’s efforts resulted in nine federally funded lifesaving stations on Cape Cod in 1872. The US Lifesaving Service (USLSS) was separated from the Revenue Marine Service a few years later and continued as an independent agency under the Treasury Department until the US Coast Guard was established in 1915.

Our Linnell family is directly tied with the lifesaving station at Orleans. Captain Dean Gray Linnell, served as the Keeper for the Humane Society hut in Orleans under the auspices of the USLSS and led volunteers. One of his notable rescues was the wreck of the Orissa on January 18, 1857. Solomon Linnell was one the first keepers elevated to Captain in 1871 and jointly discovered the remains of the Sparrowhawk some years earlier. To learn about the rest of the Linnell story please attend the next Linnell Family Association reunion.

BONNIE FEATHERSTONE!

It is with grateful hearts that the LFA accepts the resignation of Bonnie Featherstone from the LFA Scholarship Fund Administration Committee. Bonnie has provided thoughtful, concise, and valuable input into the LFA scholarship process for the last couple of years, while also participating in the advance planning process for several of the recent LFA annual conventions. We wish Bonnie the very best as she focuses on other adventures, and we look forward to seeing her whenever possible at future LFA events.
